Poem 1

On the skin of our house
Grows abundant strong hair Serpents lurk around them lurk around and around they eat and drink the roots of the extra strong hair beneath the roof
Children suck the sap of Fathers and mothers who hide themselves beneath the floor maladies are sucking at the roots of trees

We are seeing
We are closing our mouth's we simple are waiting waiting
waiting
until we have dug our own grave.

Poem 2

'World go to be domesticated
And scamper around the existence
World go to be domesticated
He's slowly go to graze similar as person when sleeping
And see a dream

I am heckle he's mane.
