Last Words

The last words a person says before they die are the most precious words anyone will hear. So when your days are numbered and your candle is almost out, take that time to do things you wish you did before and leave your mark here for eternity.

Life In Words

i give my life to those that call my name. i show love in words of grace, my heart grows stronger for hope, and my soul freely sings. i cry for every lost soul, and my eyes crack freeing the lost love. and restoring peace to all hearts, i am the writer of GOD and Jesus guides my hand.

Joe Sandefur

Looking Up

We look to the skies and wonder what is beyond the clouds above, we wonder what will life be like when we die, but we must remember that we will never die when we stand against the things that hurt us.

My Last Words As A Poet

A poet is what i strive to be, but i am only a boy with words on paper, a pencil in a small unknown hand, in this i paint what i feel and i continue without fear, in my life i find life in love, i have had motivation but now my last words are the ones that will inspire the most. i have given my soul to my friends, family, and people i dont know, my last words are live life and follow your dreams within your heart.

My Love

God bless the road tht was broken in my life, every person i thought i loved always broke my heart, every dream i had, every lost piece of my heart, pushed me farther down tht road, i always looked down on myself, letting my tears fall, breakin myself into pieces, not feeling happy for a single moment, staying by myself, alone, away from the world, but now i am blessed, i hav found happiness, i let my tears fall again in love, i hav had my dreams come true, my wishes granted, , and now my heart is loved and i will never break the heart of the one i love and adore and cherish, i love the angel tht stands by my side forever.

No Longer

Living with the regret, of the things I have done and will never forget, being alone and hurt, knowing how many friends I have kicked into the dirt, living and praying for them to forgive me, and understand that I'm hurt and drowning in the sea, I have stood for my family and friends, helping them up from their feet and hands, here I am living for tomorrow, never to forget yesterday, here I am to die this day, knowing and feeling of the hurt that keeps peeling, crying and dying for hearing the words I kept whining, beaten and battered pushing forward for all that matters, fighting for the love that makes me a pure spirit for my home up above, but today is not a day for celebrating, for all these years I have been waiting, for the call of my home, so my days on earth no longer roam, never to hold my old friends and people I hurt, to apologize just won't work, so I'll leave with nothing to say, for I am for I am to die this day.

Our Love

Our love soars through the heavens, time and space for when our loves collide we create new life and that lives on for eternity

Joe Sandefur

Please Let My Love

Please let my love be your light, let it be your guarding shining through all types of darkness, let me take your pain and make it mine, let me show you love only angels can give, let me be the one that gets hurt, let me cry for your pain, let me love you the way you should be loved.

Joe Sandefur

As you look back and remember the things that made you live, look back and give thanks and never forget, as you cry the world will rain.

Joe Sandefur

Satanized

Go on with ur life, live it as u see fit, let fire rain! ! dont stop until hell is bowin at ur feet, and heaven stands by ur side, strike down, let rage fill ur heart, , become the ruler, , destroy, kill, , pillage, , run down the sands of sorrow, , and battle the demons u fear! ! make them scream blood, , drive ur sword through anyone who stands against u, , for what u do is always right..ur name will b feared..no mercy! ! ! stand on the lifeless bodies of the fallen as their blood fills the earth.. feed upon their lost souls..drink from the red pool around you..call all those who u fear to come and serve you..leave ur mark upon their flesh..execute ur rein..spill the fires from the pillars..and now sit upon ur throne..u have become satanized

The stars in the velvet sky are the souls that found their way but for the stars we don't see are the souls of the ones we cannot save.

Joe Sandefur

The Wind

As the wind blows through my fingers, I feel the years go by. I see the life of people before me, I see the pain and happiness, I feel the tears and the blood that has drifted with the wind, the wind is forever, my ashes will blow with the wind and stay forever. □

Joe Sandefur

The Wings Of Life

The wings of life block the way of evil and for each lost soul that finds its way to heaven's gate a single feather shall fall. When you have lost hope and your tears fall hard to the ground and a single white feather falls at your feet you can then stand tall and proud and look up to the heavens and see its golden pearly gates and feel the love of god's grace.

Joe Sandefur

True Light

The light shines bright showing heaven's gates, but darkness can cloud our minds turning us away from true paradise, but even in darkness Life's True Light is never blown out.
