A True Mother You Are

You were there in agreement with my dad
He made love to you
You never hesitated
When you felt me growing in your womb
For the fact that you never had second thoughts of keeping me it was a blessing
A true mother you are
You carried me through dark days, cold days and hot days yet you never gained hate
You bonded with me through the umbilical cord Groomed me while I was still a foetus Loved me every second that passed by Your touch was the best ever
You never rejected me
Never turned against me
Never undermined me
Even though we fight sometimes Even though you yell a lot I still love you
I can't imagine my life without you mum
It's like you are my goddess on earth
You are my shoulder to cry on You show me love no matter how bad I mess your heart up
No matter how I cause you headaches, sleepless night
You are the best mum ever I love you mum Without you am not complete
You are my other half
I love you a lot mum

A Woman Defined

her head thinks about better life for her loved ones her eyes see what people cant see, they also tell stories both sad and fascinating her nose smell troubles and blessings her mouth is a bank of words of encouragement that keeps her going her neck is the pillar of life to her her heart is the centre of love, joy and warmth, the womanhood its is where pain is dealt with her breasts are a empire uniqueness and being adroit her curves are the symbol of the ups and downs that you were bought over by the almighty her feet are strong they can step over anypr0blem her wh0le b0dy is a weapon, a comfort so a woman is diverse ladies lov3 your selves and take care

All I Saw Was His Photo

All she got to see was his picture
On her mind was drawn a real fantasy on him
She thought if he had touched her would she go crazy
She thought if he had kissed her would she go deeper with him and beg for more
She kept on staring his photo
She thought to her self I she would get a chance to play with his her will they fall to deep thoughts with naked temptations She thought if she would let him touch her body and call his name while having a nude desire would he agree
She knew deep inside that she had a deeper feeling for the dude
She thought to her self if I got a chance to hear his voice life would be better
But all she got to see was his picture

He Is The Showbiz Of My Heart

He came as a stranger

I was confused

Hurt

Lonely

Needy

The moment he came and smiled at me

He opened the closed love emotions

He is good as a pure substance

His touch shivered my blood to its boiling point I felt as if my blood was in some kind of race

His voice its a harmonic melody that relax my body and soul in its rest position

His smile is unique

His eyes bond with my eyes from the left to the right

So does our hearts they bond from the right atrium to the left atrium

We connect soul to soul

He is perfect for me

He is all I ever wanted from a guy

His lips bring me hope that one day I will wake up next to him and enjoy my life with him

Loosing him is not what I intend to do but to be beside him through good and bad

He is the showbiz of my heart and a king of my love

I love you bobo

How Can I

How can I tell him?
That am in a battle
My heart and feelings are fighting with my pride Seems like my pride is fighting harder
But it becomes powerless
Every time I see his face
Every time I see his text
We just friends
That's what he knows
Will I ever express my self to him?
Where am I going to get the courage?
How?
From who?
I wish there was an angel
That I can sad to tell him how I feel How I am willing to shoe him love
How I am longing for his touch
How am I having endless visions of me and him living a good life
Every time I see his face my heart contracts
I feel like my eyes have seen something new while he is old on this earth
He is perfect for me
There is one thing troubling me
How am I going to tell him?
I truly need him
Its just my empty pride that makes me
Tremble my feeling Fight the strong hold that Draws me towards you
I am moved yet can't move towards you
I am touched but can't touch you as I desire
I can't help the compression that compress me towards you
I need you
I love you
How will I tell you?

I Cry

You left me alone
I cried
you yelled at me
I cried
I cried because you were gone
you were my pillar you were the fountain of joy in my life you were my courage
I cried because
I'd be devastated without you
I'd be hopeless
I'd be speechless
I cried because without you am nothing without you am sad without you i cant smile
I cried because
You were leaving me i cried because i was watching you fading away from me and you never looked back i cried because it happened not because it was over am crying because am now happy without you

If Only You Knew

If u knew!

You yelled at me i made my self strong

While i knew dat am shattered inside

You told me that you don't care yet you still look up to me for help

If only you knew that i wet my pillow just for you every night

You made me your doormat while you tell me that am your wife

If only you knew that you are bruising my heart

You told me how useless am i to u but you always need my help

If only you knew that you caused hatred in my loving heart

I cried while you were smiling you left me in the dark not concern about the useless human like me

Until you realised that you really need me that life is not easy without me but it was too late for that because you made me an animal with no love and sympathy but cruel to be kind if only you knew you wouldn't continue....

Love At Its Best

It occurs naturally
Why force it?
Why judge by looks?
Body posture?
Who said love is determined by what you see?
Who said you too ugly to be loved?
When times are hard will those looks you want be there for you?
When you need moral support will that body posture be there?
When you feel like has come to an end will that ass be there to pick you up and tell you its not the end?
Where there is love there is life Love comes from deep within Love is a treasure that one can treasure infinite Love is so kind
True love heals broken hearts
True love gather pieces and form something out of them True love is when you take away the romance, passion and still find that you still care
Love ie contempt
Has no rush but patient all the time
Being loved is an sovereign Magnificent and a precious feeling
I hope you find that someone who has those characteristics

Magnificent Laban

If you don't know how To solve x come to Laban
You shall find thee Mqoco's, Mtshali's, Mokoena's and the Thekiso's
Of this school you shall understand maths like you your self
If that chemical equation is confusing you Come to Laban
You shall find the pros
Of that am talking about Thembekwayo, Mhlongo and the great Bakala
If that life situation is pestering you Consult Maseko and Masemola
If fitness is what you looking for Mokone is always available for you
If your home languages beats you to come nice Woza ukhona uMaphosa, uSkosana, uZimu no Malapela
Well if numbers were not your gift
Come to Laban and see the pros of number Mzibovu is there, Mohuba and Mabena
If technology, technical and electrical is ya thing
The great ones of Laban are there to assist you am talking about the Lebata's, kuzipa's and Mafolo's
If english is your weakness
Come to thee Mkatshwa's tribe where you will find legends of Rapodile, Kubayi, Mplatlanyane and Mahlangu's
If sciences is ya thing
Thee Zimu's, Ndlamlenze's
Of this world will spine your head and blow your mind away
If art is your thing
MR Nkambule is there to serve you at your presence
After all this if u want to be fit Mokone is there to work your body up
This is the magnificent Laban Motlhabi

May Her Soul Rest In Peace

There she was in hesitation
Sobbing for her unhappy life
She was desperate for love
Happiness with peace
Understanding that is unconditionally
They came from all the directions
Places near or far
Dirty or clean
They took advantage for they saw no disadvantage of practising to giving love to the instigated girl
Her happiness was buried
Ten feet underground
Her heart had been ripped of like torn cloth
Her smile was bitter than the bitter est alkaline in the world
Her face was un pleasing as a dog
Her eyes told the untold They never saw that she needed love and happiness but all they saw was a degraded girl who has nobody They saw a spitting bowl
A useless girl who has no direction
They never cared
She was forced and overcame by the talks and spits that came out of their mouths
That she had to capitulate her happiness for then There she was saying may my happiness rest in peace
That was the end of her dreams and life

My Answer

I see each and every tear just running down her face
All of them are in it like they are in some kind of race
To reach the bottom of her cheek where her love has been deceased and written on her tombstone is MAY MY HEART REST IN PEACE
Her perception is like an open book that I get to read
But then distance tore us apart the second we were free
They say the heart grows fonder when an absence is present
But pieces from a broken heart try to put together a sentence
I guess I am a spitting image of a loving essence Because i know we were more what cupid offered when we bless each other with our presence
So love cant be a mistake when there is no lesson learnt unless it was not heavenly sent that was the answer to my Broken heart and a river of tears I shed

malibongwe bobo

My Love

When I said I love you
I was in hesitation While my heart was in Domination of your love
Your touch was in a position to rotate my heart yet your voice was in rotation of my mind
My love is stronger than pain
Painful in a good way
Unforgettable as death
Hotter than the mighty flame of a blazing fire that no waters can quench Nor river can wash it away
It is so unyielding as the grave
My heart is hungry for your love this hunger can only be filled by you I love you and I mean it
That is my love for you don't underestimate I
I Love you

Pain Of A Loving Heart

Your words came as sharp razors
Tearing her heart apart
Your actions were painful as an open wound her thoughts about you and that girl were hot like boiling water that she couldn't put a finger the time you wasted telling her lies making empty promises to her vanished into air the good memories that you made together was now agony to her your visual was the source of tears to her your names made her hungry for what she couldn't get you never cared you never saw you never felt her love she gave her all but you were not a man enough to see the potential in her eyes
You came back begging
For a second chance Why come after all the tears doubts
Self hatred
Heartache
It was too late for you to all the man out there never hurt a loving heart

malibongwe bobo

Please Don'T Go

It was pleasure
All the time when I saw you walking in the gate calling me
I would run and jump into your arms
For you had strength to pick me up
And wipe away my sorrows
Tears
Fears
Heartache
And pains
I was living in harmony
Knowing I had a great comfort in my life
Until that day I heard you were no more
I couldn't believe
I stood there waiting for your presence
I never wanted to accept
I told my self this all was a lie
I knew you would never leave me
For you promised to be with me
You said you won't leave in this cruel world alone you will protect me until am fit enough to fight for my self I stood there until I saw you
In a alabaster box
I thought you were kidding
I thought you would wake up and hold me tight
No you were really cold
The moment I saw you going down that pit I knew my daddy was gone
It was the end of the laughter
The bond
The fun
The warmth I knew ad miss you I want you even more
I miss you even now
Daddy please don't go
Father please don't
I cried
I thought you would hear my cry
I cried even harder
I jumped Rolled on the ground Thinking that you would see the Pain am in but you never came

You saw me but you couldn't come and comfort me
Daddy please don't go
I miss you

Romantic Goddess

There I was day dreaming of romance
She came and blind folded me with a cloth that was smelling a divine perfume
She grabbed me with her fluffy hand
I felt heaven on earth
She told me be quiet I shall treat like a king today Ooh! Her hips were curvy that the edge of a cloth
She opened mt sight I saw a room filled with romance most of all with her love
I recalled her words 'today I want to treat you like a king'
She played that sweet harmonic melodies that made my heart to bond with hers heart to heart
She touched me I felt like I was in paradise were good touches are felt 24/7
She whispered I love you my head went round like a motor that keeps an object moving
She kissed me I felt my body forcing to come out of its skin
Woo that lady braked me down made me complete
I love her
She is the romantic goddess of my heart
I love you

Take Me There

Take me behind that mountain
Where there is love unconditional love
Take me across that river where there is unlimited happiness Take me behind that fig tree where there are fruits of peace
Take me across that ocean where there are unlimited blessings
Take me behind that falling house there is hope and spirit of restoration Take me to that fountain of life so that I can quench my thirst and never be dry again
Take me to that green garden where birds hush their singing, where flowers blossom at the peak of my eyes Take me above that white cloud so that I can see my creator the one who gives endless life
The one who loves unconditionally
Where there is peace joy
Where I will praise him without any disturbance Take me to that place it's my dream

That Day

A nice sunday afternoon
I saw a young handsome guy
Just his presence made my heart
To feel as if he was existing on my heart
I saw his small eyes dove like His smile oh! You can tell it was from the inner gentleman
The more he smiled there my arteries of love open to let love flow about in my bruised heart
The words conveyed from his mouth
Were like a an instrumental relaxing song that en riches souls and makes a heart to be at rest
Oh! Yes my heart was at rest for I knew no troubles would bother nor pester me for I will have laughter as my common habit
His touch as he grabbed my hand and held it closer to his heart beat
I could feel that those heart beat were meant for me
He exclaimed
Wow in my heart I knew he meant that I smiled back and exclaimed
He knew I meant it
We coNnected in the rhelhem of thoughts
For our thoughts were the same
We were thinking of our future together
His visions of me and him in front a pastor saying 'I do' to each other Smiling on front of those people
Some saying 'damn those two are still together'
Some weeping in tears of joy
Some weeping in regret While we weep tears of being together forever
While we held each other walking On the streets
Listening to the nature rejoicing in the presence of our love
The birds hushed their songs
While other whistled at the peak of our ears
As we smile looking at each other
Our heart were being ta-tooted with each others names
As we kept on holding hands the heavens roar the angels were please to see such magnificence
Our facial expressions were a confirmation of happiness to each other
That day re-wrote my heart

We Were Intimate

He whispered to my ears
With a very soft and nude voice
He said can we go deeper No ear that could have got a chance to hear that sharp voice filled with temptation particles could deny to go intimate with him
He touched me with his soft and comforting hands
He kissed me with his sweet lips to a level where I capitulated all of my feelings to him
He took of my clothes as if I was a queen in a castle His look restored the lamb of my first love it shown brighter and mighty than before
He laid me
He made love to me
We grew strong each and every pump he made
For each squeeze he made to my spongy breast we bonded in all direction For every calm sound I conveyed he had assurance that we will grow old together
The intimate we went the more my blood boiled reaching its maxim
The more we kissed we were making a covenant that whether in good times or bad I will be by your side we went deeper
We took our selves to another world
Where only love exists
No tears
Sorrow
Insecurity
Heartache
Where there are no happy endings but good love memories Each and every second we spent I felt I was in a garden that's blossoming with endless words
His tight touch natured my mind with thoughts of love and care
Each time I called his name he wrote mine in his heart
I love him
He loves me
We were intimate

When I Heard His Voice

All I knew is that my heart was skipping side to side
Just for the sake of saying hello
My heart was contracting
Well I knew he doesn't value the call the way I do but I truly value to hear his voice
As we had that conversation my heart was in war with my pride I almost slipped the words I was not allowed to Hmm I thought to my self
I feel him
From deep within
If only
I...

His voice came like a sharp razor that touched my heart I felt a sharp pain yet it was good one
I felt as if I am special and privileged Just because he picked up his phone
And realised my voice without any hesitation
Wow am impreSsed
Am out of words
Only the almighty
Knows where these words come from Hmm bobo are you real Where do you come from Am flabbergasted maaan
I can't describe the joy
The peace I had when I heard you voice
I just hope you see
The true being
Touch if possible
Hmm that's what I felt when I heard your voice
