Love

oh love most people wonder what you are?
love is act of endless forgive its a tender look that become a habit when one fishes for love the bait must be the heart not the brains love tender love the god of passion and romance the first duty of love is to listen one doesn't fall in or out of love but one grows in love passion, romance and disire build up love love's an endless mystery it has nothing or no one to explain it completly love is the rhyme of two lonely heart seeking to find one another love over runs my deepest thoughts still i aim to seek for it its not only you or me but all yeah i say we all need love

The Lady

The lady that haunts my dreams she increases the frequency of my heart beat she makes me vivid her look is so vivacious i find it hard to believe that she oozes her way into my mind she oust the pain i feel the way she walks is snazzy i cease Verve in her she complete my desires oh oh the lady that haunts my dreams can she be the one whose destiny to be i sit and word eish oh....the lady
