I Miss You

I miss those days when I used to be with you
I miss those moments that I never thought They'd go

I miss every word that you once said for me
I miss those two that we always used to be,

I miss every night that you used to be its star.
I miss those places where you've never been that far.

I miss that year when this gape was not so wide.
I miss every step that I walked with you beside.

I miss that time when your dream was same as mine.
I miss your smile that was giving my life its shine.

I know you've gone forever and never looked behind.
I feel you left me lost in thoughts of terrible mind.

I know that love story is just memories today.
But I miss that lovely angel you used to be one day

Love Is Not Blind

They said that love is blind
I spent terrible nights,
There were days of happiness and pleasure,
I thought I've got a treasure,
A story with no end,
Although it's hard to adapt,
Love is such an innocent,
I blame that childish mind,
Love should never be blamed,
It wasn't love's fault,
They say that love is blind
But once I thought it's not,
and pain is what I got.
but suffering was the theme but that was all a dream.
is what I'm living now.
but I'll be better somehow that I'd never blame.
that think that love is a game for giving our life its shine that fault was your & mine
And I still believe it's not,

Thanks You

Thanks for always being there for me.

Thanks for that person you helped me to be

Thanks that you never let me be alone

Thanks that forever you promise to be my own

Thanks for black memories you helped me to remove

Thanks for loyalty that every day you prove

Thanks for the smile you put back on my face

Thanks that my loneliness has got no more space

Thanks for your patience that time I was so fool

Thanks you forget that whenever you get my call

If life has got some justice I'd thank you forever

It wouldn't be enough, , , , for the best person ever

The Story Of Every Night

I think of you when the night time comes
I think of you when the light goes away
I wander how that love is gone
I think of every word we used to say
I remember every moment we spent together
I feel so much of sorrow and pain
I feel how cruel was the way you left
But wish I could have you back again
I blame that destiny who took you away
To let me know a truth that I never wished to know
I blame that heart who still want you I tell him you're gone and life must go then light comes back and I couldn't even sleep Suffering of thoughts of a terrible mind and that's the story of a broken heart
Who still believe that love is not blind
