Its Hard To Kno You Didnt You, Couldnt Cry

Its always too hard say godbye to someone you love and its even worst if you can never find yourself to cry

every time i think about it never getting the chance to say goodbye but still never crying at the fact your no longer here it makes me die over and over inside its make feel as if i didnt care enough about you to shed tears as i paid my respects when you were once one of the most important aspects in my life

Its alwayz hard to sit through a funeral without crying but its even harder to go through life knowing that you didnt cry you couldnt cry at your grandfathers funeral

Love Someone Let Them Know

If you love someone let them know If the love's not reciprocated let them go If they come back then you they yours 4 sho

i loved him
i let it sho he played me so i let him go now he's back and mine 4 sho
