Amber Eyes

With amber eyes
he watches.
Over his pack,
his family.
Strong together
as they hunt for survival.

With angry eyes
he sees.
Fences across land,
men with guns,
and a thrill.
He only kills to survive.

With sad eyes
he looks.
At sharp traps,
the soft furs
of his pups.
They didn't run
to survive.

So he asks,
why did he survive?

Dead Pain

As I lay here the pain starts to set in I think hey its starting the want to cut is so strong
I try to resist but your memories
Flood my mind
The way you used to look at me
The way you used to touch me
I remember the way you would Hold me and kiss me then the Memories of the night I found you
You had overdosed on pain killers
And you slit your wrist and neck
You died all alone
I found a bloody Note telling me good by and every Day Since then I wonder was it my Fault was it because you always saw Me get hurt was it because you couldn't Stand to see me get hurt again?

sayia willows

For You

For you I would cut
For you I would die
For you I would end it all
For all you've done to me
I would start the pain
All over again if only
I could have saved you
You never should have Died I should have been
The one to slit my neck
Or take the whole bottle
Of pills I should have saved
You I should never had said
I dint love you, you were my Best friend my brother you
Were the only thing I loved
More than my self and now
You're gone...

Forgetting Love

As I lay here
In the dark
I wonder
Was it
Worth it
To live
Was it worth?
It for loving
You told me u
Would love me
That you would never leave
But it was all a lie
You hold me and kiss Me but I can tell your Forcing your self to Smile I can tell your Uncomfortable when
U hold me is it me I
Wonder do u wish me
To leave or are u
Going to be the one
To leave
My love for
You was strong
The strongest it Ever was but My heart tells Me that something
Is wrong it says
To ask you to talk
To you and find out
What's going on but
My mind is telling me
Just break it off don't Ask what's wrong
Because it will just get worse
So I just say good by
And walk away...

Freedom Of The Wolves

We've roamed the wild country
My beautiful yellow eyes,
Side by side we've hunted
Shadows dancing on northern skies.
There have been times of plenty
We were content and serene,
Peacefully sleeping
Dangers few and far between.
We've also known much hunger
Ribs protruding from each side,
Mournfully we howled
When our starving cubs had died.
And then there was our first winter
Romping thru the glistening snow,
Tasting each crystal snowflake
Falling gently to and fro.
Ah my dear, sweet yellow eyes
I've known no greater love,
Without you, I am nothing
Our wild souls are one.
And now you lay there dying
Steel jaws upon your frame,
Life's blood slowly seeping
I whimper your sweet name.
Helpless, I watch you struggle
Chest heaving with labored breath,
Steel jaws clenching tighter
Winds whisper the song of death.
The blood has now stopped flowing
I know the time is near,
And you will forever leave me
My love, my life, my dear.
And now my world is silent
Your struggles now have ceased,
I lay my head upon you
And know you are at peace.
Perhaps your soul has lifted
To skies where eagles soar,
And there you'll greet your brothers

To run with them forever more.
And someday I shall find you
In the heaven's so far above,
And when our wild soul's unite
There'll be no greater love.

I Know

i know only pain
ive never known any thing else i feel every thing that no one else can they try to ignore it but somtines it gets through i feel the pain of all those around me they try to tell me its not there fault that they hurt me but it truely is there fault i only feel pain and thats all i will ever know

In Your Arms

In the light of the day I want to be with u but I know I can't so I walk around the town waiting wondering when night will come so I can be in your arms
I can't take waiting any more I walk to your house I let my self in I walk to the basement I find u asleep in the coffin I once built for u U look like your at peace but I know your not u feel nothing but pain now but that will soon end I look at u and see the newly born vamp i've brought into this world I see u laying there and I cant wait for the night to come so I can be in your arms once again
Tonight is the last night you'll be human tonight when u die ill be right by your side

Lies

Lies that's all u ever told me
I thought I could trust you
But I was wrong all you ever Told me was trash telling me
That you cared about me
I thought you loved me
But that was a lie as well
Lies lies lies thats all I ever Heard out of your mouth
Im sick and tired of hearing Lies im sick and tired of trying To figure out what's really true
Maybe nothing you say is really True maybe it's just are destiny
To break are friend ship

Midnight Freedom

It is midnight... the in between time... between night and day.
The wind is warm and I hear the stream just beyond the tall grass.
You have walked ahead of me, but not too far.
You are my protector.
We stop and sit by the water's edge.
You lay your head on my thigh and are still.
The night is ours and I stroke your soft fur...
You are my companion.
Soon you stand and walk to the edge of the water to stand on a tall rock
You raise your regal head and sing to the moon
I am awed at the beauty in your song.
You are my soul
We will walk this path together until the time the spirit world calls.
If am first I will wait for you and listen for you to call to me
And if the Creator allows, I will find you...
For you are my... forever

My Promise To You

I feel like i'm dying but i'm not
I feel like i'm falling but i'm not
I need to stay alive
I need to help my friend
I need to protect her
She needs my help
And I shall give it to her
I will protect her as best as I can
I will let the animal out to keep her safe
I will shed my blood to keep her alive
I will help her survive
I will guard her like she is a goddess
I will guard her in life and in death
I will die to protect her
I will die before I let her get hurt
I will and will forever protect her

No More

My world is nothing but pain
Nothing but sorrow
Nothing but wanting to die
Nothing but blood
I hurt so much I need help
There is no one there
I scream and here no response
I sit down and wonder Is there any one there? Will there ever be Some one to love me or help me?
Most likely not I am ment to be alone so Let me be if there is no one To help me then just let the World forget me let me fade
Into the darkness let me become A shadow in this world
Let me join the forgotten...

dedacated to my mother and father

Over You

I always thought we would be together
I guess I was wrong
You left me for another
When you told me we would always be friends
You lied to me to make me feel better
So you thought
I new you were lying
I always knew
When you ended are friendship
I was devastated
But I got over you
I met some one knew
Now you're the jelous one
You left me first
And now you want me back
But after the pain of loosing you
Im not taking you back
Not now not ever
Because I got over you...

Running Free

As I run I feel free
I feel the wind in my fur
I feel what no one else can feel
The freedom of being a wolf
Free to roam where I want
I feel free being one with the out side the darkness
I feel right at home being with out a master
My family left me long ago taken from me by the humans
I am the only one who is left from my family
The howls I once heard are silent no one answers my lonely calls
I feel that they may be dead long gone
But I feel that they are alive
My heart says to run and find them but I don't know if I should follow that urge to find them
I walk slowly watching as the first snow fall of the season starts
I look up to the heavens and howl letting my voice ring in the wind
I here replies from my family and I love it we watch from are hiding Places as the very first snow flakes hit the ground We watch in silence just watching the beautiful white take over the ground covering every thing green
I watch and see only the falling white flakes and remember the last time
I enjoyed the fluffy whiteness of the first snow flake

Silence

Silent paws trotting on a well beaten trail,
alone in the wilderness,
so young and so frail.
Little yips go unanswered,
the moon is now his guide, looking for ones just like him, or have all of them just died?
He sniffs the dampened ground and senses man everywhere, the silence is deafening
no howls in the air.
Oh why did he venture
so far from his den, while his pack fell silent at the hands of men?
His stomach is growling but the hunger he'll endure, his pack family is out there it's their blood he smells for sure.
He stops in his tracks and raises his head up high,
the terror overwhelms him as he lets out another cry.
But still there's no answer he can't understand why, he'll follow their trail or he surely will die.
For days now he's traveled his spirit and body gone weak, he lies down in white clover no more energy left to speak.
Soon the soul hovers over this tiny, frail pup, whose future now will be guarded as his soul travels up.
What right does man have to take life from a living thing, that has no way to voice its defense against a human being?

The wolf is a symbol,
a brother, a friend.
it's time now for action before his existence comes to an end.

Sister Wolf

As I lay here in the darkness of the night I can feel the wolf in side me start to stir. Waking up stretching she wants out She wants to hunt I want to let her out But I cant not tonight My pack has warned me That there is no sign of any deer, rabbits nothing No food has been found We have had to by Are food from farms and animal shelters The wolf is crying as I force my self to hold her back to keep the Wolf at bay she thrashes her head back and forth making my rib cage hurt She wants out but I can't there will be no food yet again She howls in side my head and I finally let her out I walk out side and begin to Strip I run and start to turn and I let my wild side free when I hit the ground I feel more like my self I let out the loudest howl I could conjure up and just let it go I here replies from other wolfs from the area And I feel right at home the darkness of the night will give me cover from human eyes I will be safe I run towards the howls I heard when I came out side I notice that one of the wolfs is not a shape shifter but a normal grey wolf answering the call of another of there family I have a feeling that im being watched I start to walk when I hear the slow stalking walk I stop and listen and right as I start to smell another animal I dropp to the ground and become completely still I here the other animal rush out of the bushes and pounce on some thing as I get up I can see that its one of my pack members one of the very young pups from my pack she has wondered away from her den and her mother as a dominant wolf I have the responsibility of returning her I yip at her and bite her in the tail to let her know that I am her dominant she pulls her tail in and falls to the ground I growl at her to get up she obeys we start walking and I here the howl of a another wolf signaling that her pup is missing I give a strong loud howl letting her know that I have her young one I here the return howl signaling that they heard me we find the pack in a clearing waiting for me and the young pup my brother the dominant male of are pack welcomes me by standing up and coming over by me and giving me a wolfs version of a hug the others welcome me by yipping and wagging there tail my pack is glad to be together the only problem is food we cant hunt when there is no animals to eat we walk around are hunting grounds in search of intruders keeping are borders well guarded as the others walk the boundaries I sit with two other wolfs and watch the young ones as they play and hang out with each other the teen age wolfs are not here to night they are at home with there friends on the nights we hunt the teens would watch the young but with no hunting they are allowed to be at home. I get up and walk to the edge of the clearing were we are sitting and I smell some thing I call to the others they come over by me I tell one of the wolfs to come with me we walk out into the clearing slowly and silently we come to an opening and we discover what we were smelling a herd of deer have come to are hunting area I call to there others mentally and let them know to come they reply we shall hunt to night we shall feast to night we gather and come up with a hunting plan we hunt we get five large deer we will have a lot of meat after tonight we choose to haul the deer to my house and cut them up there my pack starts to move back towards my house when we here gun shots we turn around to see a group of men behind us I recognize two of them they are friends of my family they think I have a dog wich is lucky for me they think im a human and the dog side of me is just a dog but its not. John says my dog name I respond by walking up to him and sitting down and wagging my tail he says that's who I thought you were he ask were my supposed master is I wine letting him know "im" not home he says he must speak to me at once I wine and start to walk away he calls my name and orders me to come he puts a bag around my neck and tells me to take it home Jordan the younger of the two I know comes up and pets me I roll over and let him rub my stomach he is one of the teenager wolfs of my pack he knows who I really am he ask john if he could stay with me for a little while he tells john he could help the dogs haul the deer to the house john says that's a good idea john loads the back of the truck with the deer and puts me and the pack up front with the rest of the men some of the men are uncomfortable having a pack of semi wild dogs in the truck with them john tells them to calm down because the alpha is sitting right by him and that I am one of the most calm dogs he knows I turn my head towards the other men and yip john says I am agreeing with him and also he says he has known me since I was a puppy wich is true he has known me all my life in wolf form and in human he has known me for so long that its crazy he has helped raise a few of the wolf pups of my pack he knows nothing of my true life he only knows what I tell him. Jordan is looking at me he pets me and says good girl. We get home Jordan and the rest of the men start hualing the deer towards the garage Jordan finds the hidden key and lets him self into my house he goes strait for my bed room opening the door for me so I can change back so the men didn't realize my truck was here but I wasn't Jordan closes the door and finds me some clothes I change back and get dressed he walks out and then I do saying hi to all the new people in my house I ask who they are Jordan says they are his uncles hunting partners I offer coffee and food they all agree Jordan tells me about the deer and the dogs I call in the dogs and give them all food one of the men in the hunting group as me why I would call a pack of wild wolves into my house all the others look at me I tell them that I raised them john agrees with me telling them that I did raise most of them and that they are very used to people even those they don't know the other wolves begin to study the men they smell them and start to yip at them the men ask me why there doing this I tell them that there welcoming them now that they know them the men start to relax. The men are leaving we can relax the others are turning back to there original forms they ask why I kept those men around for so long and I tell them that they needed to check them out and see if they were safe to know or if they were people to

Take The Pain Way

When I hear you crying softly
In the middle of the night,
I want to tell you I'm o.k.
And everything's alright.
I didn't want to leave so soon
I barely got to grow,
But once my job on earth was done
I really had to go.
I don't want you to be sad for me
Cause I'm in a real nice place,
And anytime I want to
I can gaze upon your face.
In fact I'm feeling right at home
Someone's always yelling no!
And if it weren't for jumping clouds
I'd have nowhere else to go.
It's always very quiet here
Especially at night,
Until I burst into my wolf tune
And sing with all my might.
Tell Waylon and Shane Michael
To listen to the wind,
Cause when the moon is full
They'll hear the cry of their old friend.
Please give Jena and Sierra
A special hug from me,
I sometimes miss those carefree days
That came so easily.
I know what your doing, mom
And it really makes me proud,
I get so darned excited
That I howl right out loud.
Your plan to save the timber wolf
And all his family too,
Will leave a shining legacy
Of the life I shared with you.
Now all of you get ready
To share a family hug,
Give dad a big wet sloppy one

While he's pinned down on the rug.
When you think of me - smile

Timbers Gone

Free of spirit, body and soul
To her heart there was no key,
Captured by nothing, nothing at all
I wonder even by me.
In her veins ran the ultimate symbol
Of triumph over time,
Her beauty was a picture
Of the perfect design.
Her eyes held the ghost of ancestors
That roamed before,
Strength, courage and grace
She was to the core.
High upon a mountain
She now stands so regally,
A wisp of wind, she fades away
But not from my memory.

Trust My Self

even though i feel my emotions i know that they may not be what i really feel pain is one of few that i know i need to feel to know that im still alive love is one that is rarely known to me when i do feel it it is so short of a moment that i dont even realize i felt it i wish i could be shure of what i feel but i know nothing any more hatred and pain are the only emotions i know for shure are true anger, love, depressoion and any ting else i dont know i dont know if i can trust my self

Unanswered Questions

Times like this, when my eyes drown out the light, and when your responses become short,
I lay awake at night, thinking about us, & why you won't let her go...

Questions running through my head, all unanswered, all not said...

Do you still think about her?

During your day, or late at night?

Does she haunt your dreams and all your memories?

Does your heart still have a piece that only beats for her?

Why is she so unforgettable?

Why has her impression left you so amazed, that you can't leave her alone?

Why do you continue to fight for her, and say you just want to be friends?

Why do you get mad if I tell you not to talk to her?

Why don't you leave her alone?

Is she better than me?

Is she a better person, kisser, lover?

Do you not see she wants you back?

Do you Want her back?

Do You miss her presence, her kisses, her face?

Do wish I was her instead?

Do you want me to leave, to let you be free and happy with her?

Will you leave me for her someday?

I try so hard, all for love.
I've given my heart to you, and I don't want to let you go.
Fill my body with kisses,
fill my heart with love,
not doubts in my thoughts and lies in my heart.

Maybe I'm over-thinking, maybe I'm stupid.
But that's what I feel, so insecure and small compared to her.
Especially when you get angry at me when I tell you to let her go.
Makes me feel, you want her more than me...

I lay wide awake tonight again, with Watery eyes, and a handful of short responses, hoping you'll hear my pleading voice, to really let her go, if you truly want me....

Wanting You

In the darkness of the night I here you breathing
I here your breath coming and going slowly end evenly
I want to touch your face and look at you but I don't dare
To wake you all I want is hold you now to love you
But im not like you im not human like you are you know What I am and you don't care your blood is yours to give
And you give it because you love me you the vampire inside
Was not my choice I was born this and for ever will be it until im?
Hunted down and killed but I know you wont let me die because you Wish to be like me but I won't let you...
