Lonley Without You

I cant stand this everynight you caused me all this pain i want you in my life you were all i ever longed for and i miss the way you held me tight i think it feels just right and i miss the way you'd kiss me so softly and the way you stared into my eyes it made me feel like you were all i needed in this life time but all that feelings gone i wish i had it back again i didnt mean to hurt baby i need you touch i need you tender kisses and loving care i miss the way we would sit in the rain that day i was soping wet but it was worth it to stare into your eyes the vary eyes i stared at all night long im ganna miss you everthing you tought me how to love and i miss you soft hands against my tender face i need to see you one last time cause i am so so lost without you by myside baby please come back and hold me in your arms

Suicidal Romance

you said you loved me, so i diside to put your love to the test. i wrote a note and put it in your window. you read ' i truly love you but aparently you dont love me if you truly love me, come to my house before 10: 00 pm' i wait nervously with a handgun by my side, i load the two bullets in the slot its 10: 01pm i kiss the gun and slowly move it to my head i pull the triger slowly but fast, and as i fall to the floor everything rushes through my head i float above my body to see if you would come sure enough there you were almost instantly you fall to your knees and begin to cry you notice the gun gripped inside my hand as you pull it out you softly kiss my lips and pull the triger as i watch you fall your glowing soul spots me up above finally we're together again i'll never forget the night you finally proved your love for me

Thinking Of You

At night i dream of you, as tears role down my face your all i ever knew, you looked through to, and pulled out my emotions saving me from the harm i almost commited, baby you helped me in so many ways, baby now im left with only memorries of us together, and as i realize your really gone the tears come porring down from my eyes, and on to my tear stained face, and when i move on ill try to love again, baby your my life the keeper of my heart, and the love of a lifetime i can never forget you and im always thinking of you, your always in my heart, and forever you will stay. we will always be together in heart. i love you with all my heart, joey it kills me to know we may not always be together, we have dated diffrent people, and always came together again now the question is, is this true love or adiction to your first true lover? i need to know if theres a chance between me and you. i love you
