Choices We Have To Make.

I have to make the hardest choices I ever made. I love my girl friend. I am not in love with her are happy together and have everything in dad does not want her to be with has never met me or know anything about me. I know its not right to tear her away from her family. I don't want to loose is worth fighting for but i do not want to make a gap between her and her parents. I will do whatever i need to but I am afraid that is going to hurt us. I want to do whats best for her. I am just worried that staying with her only hurts her.

It Is Up To You To Accept It.

We all have a calling? It is up to you to accept children Of God we are all called to and foremost we have to believe in we have to believe that Jesus is his only begotten son.If we do that we are we have jobs to children of God we are purposes to spread the good we have to realize we have an anointing on our life.It is up to us to act like we humans we will stumble but we have to be fast to are you up to the challenge? Are you going to accept your calling?

Jobs

I have had many types of jobs in my short working have to find a job you desire to do. It has to be something you enjoy or you won't live a happy life. I know this because I have done both. I work a job I did not desire to pay my bills but at the end of the day I thought another day wasted. Then I had a job I desired to do and at the end of the day I found myself thinking wow I love what I did is the difference that makes your life for me it stinks because I finally found that job and I can not do it anymore. I love my life now. I am back in God's presence. I stopped living the world's way and I am back on the right path. I dedicated my life to the one and only living life is just started. I have many years of success and happiness ahead of you God.

Jta

i wait with my kids.
i stand there watching cars go by.
the time for the bus comes.
there is no bus.
yeah i see a bus.
its out of service.
an hour goes by i go home
to just make my kids a sandwich.

Life Bounces

I sit here struggling in life thinking everything is fine when I find out a mistake i made.I think 'own no what do I do.'I prey about it and all of a sudden a calm set over me and i know everything will be fine.I just sit down and ask God to help me in that area of my has done allot for me so far in that area.I just ask God for a revelation of how to handle that correctly.I don't prey and ask God to help me fix it because I know he has already moved to fix it.It is up to me to do the work on my end.I just need to stay in God's presence more often.I stay in it most the time but i stubble away every now or then.I am letting God help me stay close to him.I am slowly learning how to work the word for my life.I learned that life throws you allot of bounces. It is how you deal with them and if you are in the presence of God when it is what makes us a winner in life or not.

Love Ot Lust

Most of us wonder if what we have for our partner is love or lust. I am here to tell the world there is a fine line between the is many types of love, But only one true your in love with someone you will notice many small things that you think when you are not with will be able to say the reasons without thinking or you lust you desire an act or a thing about a of time anyone can satisfy the it is love it is little things. (Like hearing their voice, seeing them, watching a movie they like and stuff they say keeps popping in your head.) When it is this you know your deeply in you cant go 2 minutes without thinking of is no matter how much it hurts doing something to help the other person.

My Life Now

I try to be a simple man. However life isn't simple. I fight many fights in my life. now i am at a point where well it will be my way. It will be because i have two little boys i have to think of. whit saying that i decided that my life now is not empty like i felt for a long time, but over love. I just desire a complete life. I will keep on desiring until i get what i want.

My Life Path

I sit here thinking about my life. The mess ups i made. The great things i did, and everything in between. I think im being to over critical and jumping to the extreme.I hope I am wrong anyway. I take and review my life and I come up with a victory in the end.It is a victory because I got my life straight and im becoming strong in Jesus. I was called to be a pastor. I am a minister. My biggest teaching is on relationship with Jesus. Im making my first DVD and having it reviewed. I am trying to not stray from the word. I study daily. I try to be a great home husband. I have a lot to learn about it though. With Jesus everything is possible to obtain. I just have to acknowledge Jesus with everything i do. Just pray my strength in Jesus.

Standing

Today i live life a little different than i used to.I know stand on the word of god.i have for a few years life has changed allot because of that.I can not always find the right scripture to use, so i use John 10: 10.I tell god that you promised me a abundant life.i know its not living life with issues. no matter if it is money, health, friendship, family, or whatever i know living an abundant life isn't living with those issues.i have confessions i say dally sometimes er god wants.I have that to thank having a better you god.

Turn Me On Jesus(A Song I Wrote)

What's my church of choice?
It's okay when they pray in tongue.
Look at this the pastor is a millionaire
Realize it's a mask that you wear
praise, praise
Such a simple god

Turn me on turn me on jesus

Yeah I want it
I need it
To make a million
Yeah I love it
i am A jesus freak.

Penetrate, Penetrate
All the simple minds
They praise, how you raise their life's.

What's my church of choice?
It's okay when they pray in tongue.
Look at this the pastor is a millionaire
Realize it's a mask that you wear
praise, praise
Such a simple god

turn me on jesus.

Yeah I want it
I need it
To make a million
Yeah I love it
A jesus freak.

Ups And Downs

The way i see it is life has it's ups and should look at almost everything a great thing that happens has a silver lining.I can say this because i have experienced enough things to know.I can look at the worst day in my life and i see the silver god blessed me, You may think God didn't bless you.I know in my life everything that happened could of been allot e say everything happens for a they are right but not in the sense they are everything happens for a reason. but people are like God wanted situations yes bur most no, Like if you get arrested God didn't want got arrested because you broke the law.I also believe that you are only the person you are because of the stuff you have been through.In life you have your ups and downs.It's what you make of them.

What Fetish Give You

A fetish might give you minutes of the experience is done it is are left with it is true love it is only then true pleasure. It never in arguments or fights you have there is the hint of long as the argument doesn't end with never talk to me or something like that your is not ever one thing you always wanted sexually that will make you happy. It is that one person you can not live one person that you can not get off your mind.

What Its Like To Be In Love

Alot of people look for thing is they already have it in have to get a relationship with and only then you can find true i found true will do anything for me.In return I will do anything I can for is the thing is you have to make them second in your life to then you can find true love that will last for is the only way.

Words.

Words drives bible says life and death lie in our we say is our confessions to should never say anything children of God we should be saying positive things.I am sure we all want that does wants all of his children to be successful broke, lacking or incomplete.If we say it enough and confess the word of god then we can not get is not a is a loving god but we should fear people are like you just said he is a loving he is also a forgiving should have a Godly fear and a Godly respect for do not have to but we need to ear his at least try to.If it would not of been for Jesus we would all fall short of glory.
